* * * Quis taliz fando, Temperet a lacrimis.—[Virgil. The night of the 16th of April will ever be one of sad and bitter memory for the people of Salvador .--On that unfortunate night our happy and beautiful capital was made a heap of ruins. Movements of the earth were felt on the morning of Holy Thursday, preceded by sounds like the rolling of heavy artillery over pavements, and like distant thunder. The people were a little alarmed in consequence of this phenomenon, but it did not prevent them from meeting in the churches to celebrate the solemnities of the day. On Saturday all was quiet, and confidence was
